Remigio Cramerstetter,

l'homme qui plantait des arbres.

Président fondateur de la Pépinière Cramer Inc.

Il était humble, accueillant, généreux et croyait au respect de tous, sans jugement, toujours prêt à rire et à une bonne jasette.

Il est arrivé au Québec en 1957 en provenance de l'Italie avec son épouse et un enfant, ne parlait ni français ou anglais et n'avait que 17$ dans ses poches.

Il fonda son entreprise en 1965 et fut l'un des premiers à cultiver des arbres de calibres au Québec, même si on lui disait que tous les arbres étaient produits en Ontario. Avec le temps et beaucoup d'efforts, il créa l'une des plus grandes pépinières au Canada.

Fonceur et innovateur, il a aidé au Québec à prendre sa place sur le marché horticole et aujourd'hui, des millions d'arbres à travers l'Amérique du Nord portent son nom.
